Tan Cage Stars Vie in Finals

Bayt Seeks Habitual Criminal Conviction in Robbery Case

Ligon, Humes, Miles Pace 3 Top-Rated Teams

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

The final foursome is back on the final kick.

For three or four years there, it looked like the era of Negro "domination" of Hoosier high school basketball might be over.

But in 1962's last go-round Saturday at Butler Fieldhouse, color will be very much in the center of the picture.

Not only because 7 of the 20 starters for the four teams will be Negro boys—with a couple more on the bench.

But because if you'll give us an accurate prediction of how a trio of tan youngsters will perform the roundball sport Saturday, we'll rush right out and get famous quick.

Jim Ligon, Larry Humes and Bobby Miles—they've got Hoosierland in their hands.

Not since 1957, when South Bend Central beat Attucks 67-55 in the final game, have we seen this kind of tan rivalry. John and Sylvester Coalmon, Herbie Lee and Lee McKnight led Central home. Al Macey and LeVern Benson paced the Tigers.

In '58, tan players were scarcer than hen's teeth as Fort Wayne South Side ousted Springs Valley, then romped over Crawfordsville for the title.

The 1959 meet belonged to Attucks all the way. Even so, Kokomo's Jimmy Rayl was the top individual star with a record-breaking 114 points in his last four games.

We had no complaint in '60, when 11 tan starters took the floor and East Chicago Washington won. But "Mr. Basketball" was Muncie Central's Ron Bonham.

Then came 1961's dismal session, color-wise. Only Kokomo's great "Goose" and Logansport's Dandy Danny Farrell were starters, and there were only three tan subs on the combined benches.

BUT WHEN MADISON'S untouchables take the floor against Evansville Bosses at 12:30 Saturday, all that will be changed. If Coach Bud Ritter follows last week's script, three-fifths of the Ohio River team will be tan.

That will be the brother act of senior Larry and freshman Howard Humes, plus reliable forward John Perry.

The Humes boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Humes, 709 Elm in Madison. Perry, who is a sophomore but at 18 is playing his last year, is the son of Mrs. Mary Perry, 304 W. 6th.

These lads team with Larry Cheatham, who shoots the eyes out of the basket, and clever guards like Cail Good and Gary O'Neal in as well-integrated a quintet as ever you saw.

YMCA Membership Goal Pledged by Drive Workers

Strategy for the next 15 days of the extensive Fall Creek Parkway YMCA membership drive was mapped during the last drive meeting in the "Y." Reports were made and members discussed at length methods of securing memberships from the community, clubs and individuals.

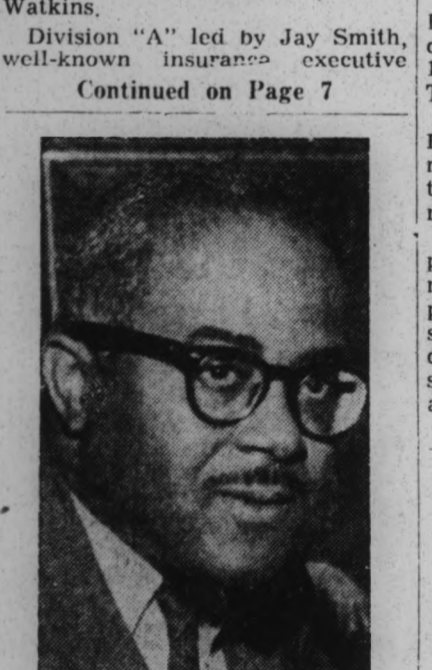

Similar progress report meetings will be held every Tuesday and Friday at 8:30 p.m. in the "Y" and the executive committee will meet each Wednesday at 12 noon.

Slogan of the campaign is "Know Your Neighbor" and the theme song is "How Do You Do Everybody, How Do You Do?" Both are attributed to the general chairman, Mrs. Priscilla Dean Lewis, and are fondly thought of as "Lewisisms."

Mrs. Lewis stated that the $25,000 and 2,500 members should be acquired before April 6 with the public's support. Dr. Lucian B. Meriwether emphasized the fact that three-fourths of the membership income for the year is raised in the membership campaign.

During each meeting the members or group bringing in the largest amount of money are recognized. Dr. H. N. Middleton received a "double gold star" for bringing in twice his goal on the executive committee. Others receiving the honor were Smith H. Cheatham, vice-chairman of the YMCA board and Dr. George C. Watkins.

Bachelor Benedicts Club 1st With Large 500 Float Donation

The Bachelor Benedicts, for more than 50 years one of the outstanding male social clubs in the city, this week assumed the position of leadership in civic circles when it became the first club to present a large cash contribution to the Citizens' Float Committee.

Notice of their $50 check donation was made by Augustus W. Hamilton, committee treasurer, following a Tuesday afternoon executive meeting.

The committee will meet Sunday, March 18, at 3 p.m. at the Federation of Associated Clubs Home, 2309 N. Capitol.

TO EXPRESS the Negroes' interest in all areas of civic and entertainment activity in Indianapolis, the committee is promoting a campaign for funds with which to sponsor a $2,000 float in the "500 Festival Parade" Monday, May 28.

Mrs. Audrey Howard, an affiliate of the 36-member committee, was appointed chairman of the telephone committee at the Sunday meeting. Persons desiring to aid the program should phone Mrs. Howard at ME. 4-3311. Ext. 356, or WA. 3-7593. The telephone chairman serves as Continued on Page 2

According to police, Sanders and his two sons, aged 7 and 8, were parked in the rear of Herring's shoe shop when they saw the owner and two other men "rolling" a drunk.

Sanders yelled to Herring to release the man, and Herring became enraged.

"You don't know who I am," Herring allegedly shouted. He then rushed in the back door of his business and returned firing his gun into the car of Sanders. Two bullets struck him in the chest and he slumped over the wheel.

Sanders had managed to open the glove compartment of his car before being hit, and the eldest boy, James, Jr., reached in and got his father's .38 revolver.

When Herring saw the youngster with the gun, he attempted to run, but the boy cut him down with a barrage of shots. One of the bullets killed him instantly. Herring was the father of five daughters, Carolyn, Ruth, Elaine, Debra, and Lynette.

Man Sought In $32,000 Holdup Nabbed By FBI

Prosecutor Phil Bayt has filed an habitual criminal affidavit against a 34-year-old suspect accused of the $32,900 robbery of a Marion County Treasurer's cashier last Feb. 2.

Bayt also issued warrants charging Stanley Lee Rutland, 920 W. 28th, with robbery, grand larceny and auto burglary.

STANLEY LEE RUTLAND

Rutland, who was arrested last week by FBI agents in Detroit, has had two previous felony convictions and under Indiana statutes is subject to be tried as an habitual criminal, Bayt said. Conviction of the habitual criminal charge carries a life prison term.

Investigators said Rutland did not admit taking part in the Indianapolis robbery when four FBI agents apprehended him at the home of a brother on Detroit's northwest side. Agents went to Rutland's brother's home on a tip supplied by Indianapolis police. No Continued on Page 8

N.C. Mayor Deposits $100,000 In City Funds In Negro Bank

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (ANP)—Charlotte's Mayor Stanley C. Brookshire last week deposited $100,000 in city funds in the new Charlotte branch of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank of Durham.

A. E. Spears, senior vice president, received the deposit while bank President John H. Wheeler and hundreds of townspeople and well-wishers looked on. The ceremony was part of ribbon cutting for the new $160,000 structure designed by Negro architect Edward G. Miller of Atlanta.

President Asa T. Spaulding and President Rufus P. Perry of Johnson C. Smith were participants in the dedicatory rites. Lorimer D. Milton, president of Citizens Trust Co., Atlanta, was the speaker.

SCENE OF MURDER: In an upstairs apartment of this house located at 370 W. 30th police found Mrs. Carol Jean Martin, 27, beaten to death. They arrested her common-law husband, Leroy James Penick, 44, on a preliminary charge of murder. (Recorder photo by George P. Stewart II)

Arrested Man Was Prime Suspect In '58 Murder Of Malvina Krutz

A 44-year-old painter-handyman, once a prime suspect in the 1958 murder of Mrs. Marvina Krutz, was being held on another murder charge this week in connection with the beating-death of his 27-year-old common-law wife. The woman's battered body was found Saturday morning in an apartment the couple shared at 370 W. 30th.

The suspect was first arrested Jan. 29, 1958, the day Mrs. Krutz's body was found submerged in the bathtub of her Northside home, after police learned he had been employed by the Krutzes a few weeks before. He was questioned extensively, released and re-arrested a week later. After three "inconclusive" lie-detector tests, he was again freed because of a lack of evidence.

Held in connection with the death of Carol Jean Martin, an American Indian who sometimes used the name "Koko Penick," is Leroy J. Penick.

Police called to the 30th Street address shortly before 8 a.m. Saturday found the body of Mrs. Martin, whose husband reportedly lives on a reservation in Minnesota, sprawled on the floor of the apartment.

Det. Sgt. William Brosius of the police homicide division said the woman had suffered a terrible beating. Her body was completely covered with bruises and one rib had been broken. There were black and blue marks about the width of a man's shoe on her stomach, arms, back and legs.

A long-time veteran police officer on the scene was heard to comment that in all his years of police work, he had never seen a person who had suffered a more severe beating.

Sgt. Brosius said an autopsy performed at the Marion County General Hospital morgue revealed the woman had literally drowned in her own blood. A cerebral edema, the accumulation of body fluid in the tissues under the scalp, caused the woman to lapse into unconsciousness and she strangled on blood flowing into her lungs.

Although he admits striking Mrs. Martin "one time with an open hand" Penick steadfastly denies inflicting the fatal beating. "He sticks to that story even though we've got a statement of a neighbor, Mrs. Ella Campbell, who lives directly beneath the apartment shared by the victim and Penick."

Mrs. Campbell and her niece, Mrs. Dorothy Neely, 821 E. 24th, who had spent the night with her aunt, recalled hearing a woman pleading for her life and loud "thumping and thumping" noises overhead about 3 a.m. on the morning of the murder.

Mrs. Campbell also said a man, she identified as Penick from a photo shown her by police, came to the door of her apartment about 7 a.m. and asked, "Please come upstairs because I think I've killed my wife."

When first questioned on the scene, Penick said he had not struck Mrs. Martin and maintained that she had probably suffered the injuries during several falls while in a drunken condition.

He told Sgt. Brosius and Det. Sgt. Richard Krachenfels that he had come home around midnight Friday and found his common-law wife in a drunken or dazed condition in the entrance leading to the upstairs apartment.

Leaving her in the doorway, Penick told the detectives he went up to their apartment and after hearing her talking to someone a short time later hollered down and asked, "Are you coming up here?"

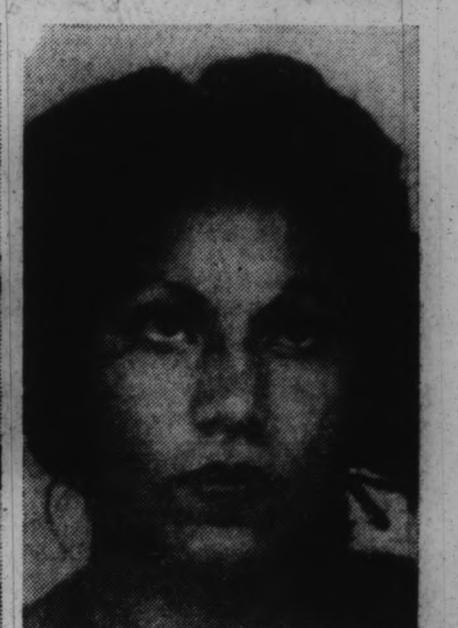

"SHE SAID she would if I would come down and help her up the stairs," Penick told the investigating officers, adding that he went down the stairs and dragged her up.

"I put her on the couch, she fell off and I picked her up and put her back on the couch," Brosius quoted the murder suspect as saying.

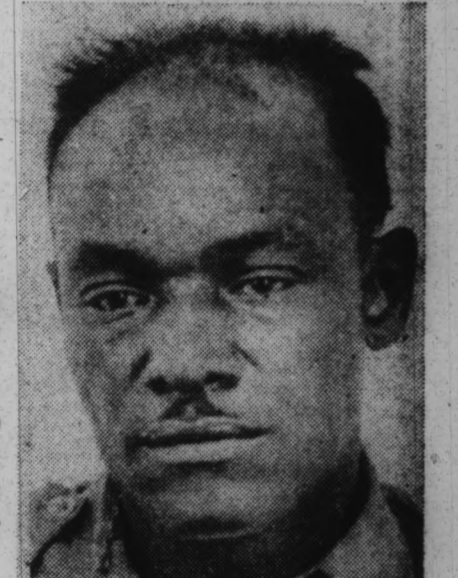

He said Penick claimed Mrs. Martin, after sleeping a while, got off the couch and walked into the kitchen where she stumbled and fell, striking her head on the refrigerator.

Both men appeared in Municipal Court 3 Monday on preliminary charges of assault and battery with intent to murder, and were bound over to the grand jury.

Baptist Groups Unite To Speed Negro's Progress

PART I

Realizing the profound need for a strong, united Negro leadership in the Indianapolis community to combat the many problems which daily hinder the Negroes' growth in their battle for advancement and proper recognition, two Baptist groups have joined forces as one body.

The Baptist Ministerial Alliance of Indianapolis and Vicinity is pledged to take an active part in the elimination of community problems and work closely with other organizations in this connection.

In 1961 the Alliance, organized more than 55 years ago and the Union District Ministers Conference which survived 16 years, discarded its split along conventional lines to work together for the betterment of Baptist goals and the Negro community.

Not only did the outstanding unification bring together important religious leadership groups, but also two distinguished leaders. Before the coalition became final, it took the influence, leadership and determination of Rev. G. M. Mimms, president of the Ministerial Alliance and Rev. T. A. Clark, president of the Union District Ministers Conference. They are pastors at Bethesda Baptist and Greater St. James Baptist churches, respectively.

TWO VALIANT committees, one from each group, campaigned for the consolidation. In the Alliance group were Rev. Alexander Bernard, pastor of Greater St. Mark Baptist Church and Rev. Plummer Jacobs, associate pastor of Mt. Paran Baptist Church.

Representing the Conference were Rev. James Williams, pastor of New Baptist Church and Rev. R. T. Andrews, pastor of Mt. Zion Baptist Church. Other prominent ministers also played a part in the unification.

In January the committees, leaders and members met at Good Samaritan Baptist Church with Rev. W. E. Starks, pastor of New Liberty Baptist Church, presiding. Rev. J. T. Highbaugh was host pastor.

Ky. School Girl To Tell Sit-in Story

A girl high school student who has been prominent in the vigorous desegregation movement at Louisville will bring the inspiring "sit-in story" to a meeting of the local NAACP to be held Tuesday night at United Packinghouse Workers Hall, 621 W. Washington.

Miss Sharon Porter, a senior at the integrated Shawnee High School in the Kentucky metropolis, will relate incidents of the dramatic struggle against discrimination at recreation centers, restaurants, hotels, clothing stores and other public enterprises.

MORE THAN 300 ARRESTS have been made during the past year as the Louisville youngsters, with the support of their elders, have sat-in and stood-in for freedom in the city lying just south of the Ohio River.

sat up the rest of the night," Penick told the detectives. Questioned as to why he didn't seek medical aid for the injured woman, Penick replied, "I thought she was just drunk."

Penick said he dozed in the chair and was awakened shortly before 8 by a fellow worker who, after noticing the woman didn't appear to be breathing, advised him to call the police.

He said he went across the street to a liquor store and asked the proprietor to phone police.

"There is something definitely wrong with Penick's explanation," Sgt. Brosius told a Recorder reporter. "We've questioned him three times and each time there have been quite a few noticeable discrepancies in his story."

At the time of Penick's release in connection with the 1958 Krutz slaying, homicide detectives emphasized that they were not satisfied "we are not holding the right man" and reluctantly freed him because of the lack of evidence.

"After we clear this one up," Sgt. Brosius said, "I plan to get with Earl Booth, who handled the Krutz investigation and is now retired, and see if we can't compare notes."

The detective said he may ask Penick to take another polygraph test in an effort to "clear up" the Krutz slaying.

PENICK left town and went to Milwaukee shortly after his release in 1958. He met Mrs. Martin there and lived with her off and on for almost two years before about eight months ago.

Penick appeared Monday in Municipal Court Room 3 where Judge Ernie Burke continued the case until Mar. 27 and ordered him held, without bond, in the county jail on a preliminary charge of murder.

Koehler's Foods Gov't Inspected

Mr. Harold C. Koehler, partner with Koehler's Wholesale Restaurant Supplies today announced that effective March 13th all fresh produce and meats delivered to Marion County institutions will be inspected by a United States Government Department of Agriculture inspector and a certificate of inspection will accompany all deliveries. This will be in addition to poultry and egg products already being delivered and inspected in this manner.

Koehler said the program would be initiated at once at Koehler's expense as evidence of good faith to the Marion County Commissioners and as an effort on their part to establish USDA inspection for perishable food shipped to county institutions.

Inspection of this type is not currently being done on fresh produce and meats.

To the People of Indiana:

Why destroy the good name of the United States Department of Agriculture Seal of Approval!

Why undermine the confidence of American families in the food inspection system of their Government!

Every delivery of fresh produce, meat, poultry and eggs which has been made by Koehler's Wholesale Restaurant Supply to the State of Indiana and to its institutions has had this official approval by the United States Department of Agriculture inspection.

When Mr. James H. Berg, the State of Indiana Purchasing Director, questions the efficiency, honesty and good faith of Koehler's Wholesale Restaurant Supply, he, therefore, is questioning the efficiency, honesty and good faith of the United States Government.

Exactly what is behind this so-called "investigation of food deliveries" to the State of Indiana and to Marion County? Exactly what are the motives in removing Koehler's from the bid list of the State of Indiana without prior notice?

We sincerely hope that time will tell all!

As citizens—as taxpayers—and as a family which has been in the business of handling food for the public for more than sixty years, we are just as much interested in the State of Indiana and Marion County getting their money's worth as you are.

We pledge that we will co-operate with the Marion County Prosecutor in his investigation. All we ask is that any investigation be thorough and unbiased and that a full report be made to the people after the Grand Jury has concluded its findings.

TIME FOR TALK

By
WILLIAM "Skinny" ALEXANDER

"A murderer, yes; a rapist, no!" These words were uttered by Watson Young Jr., accused slayer of two elderly persons a while back.

Young, who steadfastly claims he is innocent of the rape charge, told this columnist that he is being put on public exhibition by jail guards during visiting hours for the other prisoners.

STATE OFFICE MEMO: Paul May, employed in the revenue department, just informed me that he was recently elected president of the powerful Southside Democratic Club. This could well mean a tremendous amount of support for Tony Maio if he should decide to run for the county clerk post. Tony would also receive backing from the State Revenue Commission. Commissioner James J. Courtney...

And this should truly give Owen Mullin his much needed strength. Reports from the Indiana State Police training and personnel department say there are eight Negroes who passed on their applications, and more are expected to pass. Young Demos at the State Office Building are beginning to take shape, and it appears that this is going to be a pretty good organization here that will bear watching.

AROUND THE COURTS: Indiana Judge Noble R. Peary has the inside track on the nomination for prosecutor on the Republican ticket. He has the blessings of top Republicans and the Young Republican organization.

Bosse team, whom the Cubs defeated 59-51 late in the season. Bosse will be bringing no players to the finals. "I was sorry to lose Junior Tyron Stone as he got in academic trouble," Coach Jim Myers Jr. told The Recorder. "I hope he'll straighten out for next season."

"We'll get some additional Negro students when Lincoln High School is abolished next year, but the biggest part of them will go to Central."

THEN WILL COME THE Dream Game of the year, pitting the state's "No. 1" team, Kokomo, against the "No. 2" quintet, East Chicago, Washington.

The 6-7 Jim "Goose" Ligon is the Kats' only Negro player this time—but that's like having Satchel Paige in his prime for your only pitcher. Who needs outfielders?

Jim is breaking all of Jimmie Ray's records, and Coach Joe Platt calls him "better than Oscar Robertson was."

The son of Mrs. Christina Ligon, 406 1/2 N. Bell in Kokomo, Jim got wide publicity last month when he was in an automobile accident at midnight 40 miles from home on a school night.

But Platt shed an extenuating light on the incident, according to Jimmy Angelopoulos of The Indianapolis Times, when he explained that Ligon and two friends had driven to Anderson because "they let Negroes skate there on Tuesday nights."

THE SENATORS FROM East Chicago are sparked by the tremendous outside-shooting and ball-handling Miles. Like Madison in the opposite corner of the state, they have two more Negro starters in dash-champ Bernie Rivers, and 6-4 rebounder John Blanchard.

Negro subs include 6-5 Willie Askew and 5-10 William Johnson.

Coach Johnny Baratto is proud of the "United Nations" nature of his team, which also includes Rich Mason, 6-8 junior center of Lithuanian-Croatian ancestry; Ed Perez, Spanish-Polish; James Popovich, Croatian; Joe Zych, Polish; Robert Kragulac, Serbian; Louis Murillo, Mexican, and Tom Yohe, Dutch-Slovak. The coach himself is of Italian descent.

IF MADISON AND KOKOMO should emerge victorious from the afternoon firing, one of the greatest individual battles of all time would be set up with Humes opposing Ligon at the center posts. They have never played against each other.

And finally, race, creed, color and national origin won't mean a thing. It'll be who can get that ball in the basket.

WATER CO. EMPLOYEE 40 YEARS AWARDED SERVICE CITATION

William Hayes, 940 Burdial Parkway, received the Indianapolis Water Company's Service Award last week for completion of forty years of continuous service.

Mr. Hayes began work at the company on March 10, 1922, with a new water main installation crew in the utility's distribution department. Except for three years he spent in the pumping department, Hayes has worked on the installation and repairs of mains, valves and fire hydrants during his entire employment.

He is the thirty-seventh water company employee to receive the service award since its inauguration in 1913. Five of the recipients still are actively employed and nine are retired.

Baptists Unite

and approved a merger was declared and all offices were vacated. The election result was as follows: Rev. Minnis, president; Clark, vice-president; F. K. Dillard, pastor of Gethsemane Baptist, secretary; A. B. Baker, member of Galilee Baptist, assistant secretary; E. J. King, pastor of Ebenezer Baptist, treasurer; Highbaugh, Sunday School lecturer and G. W. Evans, pastor of Fall Creek Baptist Church, critic.

A new constitution was written providing that officers serve a two-year tenure and not run again until a year had elapsed.

Rev. Minnis said the actual agreement took only about three months. He said: "We felt being together would be an incentive for the people in the city to see us working harmoniously to increase fellowship among members. It gives us the opportunity to advance the spiritual interest of our people."

"THE ALLIANCE as a united force will intervene in any community or civic project which it feels will better the Negro race or community. Even in cases where the NAACP spearheads movements, the Alliance will support them in their efforts. Any moment we can be of service we are always on the scene. If not out front, we're behind."

"With unification," Rev. Minnis concluded, "we can carry out a stronger program. Rev. Clark had this to say: "Our objective was to unify the Baptist efforts in order to strike a more massive blow at the problems confronting the Baptist ministers of the city."

"We felt our general teachings and beliefs were that 'where there's unity, there's strength' and thus time had arrived to put these advocations into practice."

He continued: "From my position as president I endorsed the idea and proceeded to set up the machinery by which the unification could be effective by appointing a committee and weighing the possibilities of a harmonious unification."

Other key workers in the movement made the following comments. Rev. Bernard: "The Baptist ministers of the city and vicinity needed more togetherness to do all that's necessary for them as a group of ministers."

"I was a member of the body meeting and feel that with this united program what the Baptists want can be carried out better. There is a better relationship toward the churches and ministers in serving the community."

"The unity has given us the opportunity to do better service as a group of Baptists. I feel the Alliance will take part in any project for the betterment of the community," Rev. Andrews said.

He noted: "I served as chairman of the steering committee. Both groups were equally represented. I feel the unification has definitely worked out for the best interest of the community and our city."

CORRECTION

Last week it was erroneously stated that a surprise birthday party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Colvin of 2007 N. Park for Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Edwards.

The party was actually given for Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Robinson, pastor and his wife of Eastern Star Baptist Church, who celebrated March birthdays. Our apologies to all concerned for the embarrassment it may have caused and many more happy birthdays for Rev. and Mrs. Robinson.

Ultra-Modern Hair Weev Salon To Train Licensed Beauticians

MRS. GEORGIA WALKER

Presently undergoing remodeling for a grand opening in about four weeks is Georgia Walker's Hair Weev Salon at 515 Indiana which will specialize in teaching licensed beauticians the process of weaving commercial hair to live hair on the head for the purpose of thickening, lengthening and covering bald spots.

Hair Weev was created in 1949 by Christina M. Jenkins of Cleveland. The purpose behind its creation was the consistent complaints made by customers about their hairpieces falling off causing them great embarrassment.

Hair Weev is secure enough to give the customer a feeling of confidence to move and turn freely. It is lovely, natural and becoming hair and may be styled in any way—depending on the customer's request.

Mrs. Walker, the owner and proprietor, announced that three Hair Weev technicians from Chicago, Mrs. Maggie Burton, regional president of the Hair Weev Institute; Mrs. Madeline Oliver, national president of the Hair Weev Institute and Miss Parker will be on hand for the grand opening and to teach the courses.

Ultra-modern furniture is being selected by the Bailey's Beauty Supply Company of Indianapolis for the first such school in Indiana.

The school will serve beauticians throughout the state of Indiana who will take a 40-hour course for $250 cash. Mrs. Walker has satisfied customers with Hair Weev creations in many cities including Fort Wayne, Anderson, Gary, Muncie, Chicago, New York and Cleveland so she is well qualified to open the school.

She has taken the three-week course for beginners, advanced weaving and hairstyling and a teacher's course in Cleveland under the training of Mrs. Katherine Dorsey at Christina's Beauty and Hair Weev Salon.

Operators at her shop are completing their training now. They are Jesse Canady and Mrs. Dorothy Shobe who will also serve as Hair Weev technicians. Lessons also are available for operators desiring to know how to fashion Hair Weev.

Mrs. Walker announced this week that following the opening, her salon will stay open around the clock. She said that women with Hair Weev creations are very enthusiastic about them.

The technician commented that some were so excited and gained so much confidence and self-assurance that they have applied for admission to the Cordie King Castle, fashion, beauty and charm school, which will open here soon.

For further information on the course or to make an appointment call Mrs. Walker at ME. 5-5198. (See the ad on page 5.)

MRS. MARY P. MCGUIRE

Rev. W. J. Hodge, A.B., B.D., pastor of Fifth Street Baptist Church of Louisville, comes well-prepared as a gospel minister. Once you hear him you will agree. We welcome saints, sinners and backsliders to hear this gospel minister by the final night, March 16. Mrs. Bernice Swiney, president of the missionary and workers, are doing a good job combing the east-side for non-church members.

Harry Cooper of 4031 Boulevard, husband of Mrs. Georgianna Cooper, widely-known in Eastside circles, was buried Tuesday following services at King and King Funeral Home.

Mrs. Cooper is the sister of Mrs. Edna Bell and Mrs. Louise Wooten.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

"This is an age when men should be tempted to arise and go to their Father. Only God can give you rest and abundant life with peace. Your pastor is the best evangelist for a revival. We as Christians must think: 'What would I do if I were a sinner?'"

These timely remarks were made by Rev. W. J. Hodge of Louisville who is conducting revival services at our church, New Bethel Baptist. Dr. F. Benjamin Davis is pastor.

Sad news comes that the sister-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Vaulx, 2530 Indianapolis, died in Los Angeles at the University Hospital. Burial services were in California Thursday, March 8.

Mrs. Author W. Vaulx and husband formerly lived in this city and went to California in 1941. Mr. Vaulx, brother of the late Capt. Vaulx of Barnes Hotel, also worked with his two brothers in the business.

Carnation is the healthy family milk with extra Vitamin D

Extra Vitamin D for sound teeth, sturdy bones and steady growth. Extra Vitamin D to give your babies a healthy start, and to help your children grow straight and strong and sturdy. Extra Vitamin D to add good health to your cocoa and cereals, custards, puddings and pies. Carnation is the healthy family milk—with twice the Vitamin D of ordinary milk, in every golden drop!

Even when you mix it with an equal amount of water, Carnation is richer than sweet, whole milk. Yet it costs far less than ordinary milk. No wonder Carnation is the world's favorite evaporated milk, by far. Your family deserves the best. Your family deserves Carnation.

Barnes Methodist Church Holds Mortgage Burning March 19-25

REV. PAUL L. AYERS

The members of Barnes Methodist Church, 900 West 30th Street, thank God and the friends of the city for making it possible for us to pay off our church debt. It is with a deep sense of gratitude, and sincere humility that we approach this mortgage burning ceremony. A special program will be held at the church March 19-23. It was in the year 1953 that Bishop M. W. Clair, Jr., appointed Rev. Paul L. Ayers, our present pastor, to the Barnes church here in the city. Rev. Ayers followed The Rev. J. P. Pierce under whom the purchasing of the new church started. In June of 1953, Rev. Ayers called the Trustees of both churches together, and at this meeting a contract for the sale of the new church was drawn up and $7,500.00 was paid as "Good Faith Money." We marched from the old location on 26th and Ethel Street, to the new location, with our pastor, Rev. Paul L. Ayers leading the procession, in October 1953. The cost of the church property was $65,000.00 and we faced a debt of $35,000.00. We thank God that this debt has now been paid in full, plus interest.

In the nine years we have been worshipping in our new location, and under the direction of our pastor, our church has grown in many respects. The membership now is 825. The Sunday School has greatly increased, the church has been twice renovated, and each charges were filed against the brother, who said he was unaware Rutland was wanted by authorities.

DET. LIEUT. Spurgeon Davenport and Sgt. James V. Dabner were credited by Allan Gillies, special agent in charge of the FBI Indianapolis office, for playing a significant role in Rutland's arrest.

Gillies said Rutland was unarmed and had only a small amount of money on him when he was arrested by agents at a used car lot where he was employed as a lot boy under the name Jack London. Gillies said Rutland offered no resistance.

RON WOODS:

HATS OFF! IT WILL BE INTEGRATED

A story in this column last week quoted the Citizens Float Committee as saying it would enter an all-Negro float in the 500 parade this year. No doubt about it, a statement of this fact was released by the Committee to our newspaper for publication. During the ensuing days, considerable division developed within the Negro community whether this objective of a segregated float was wise in view of the various integration achievements on the home front recently. Those against the idea felt the interest of our race would be better served if the Committee, which is all-Negro, entered an integrated float in the world famous parade—kind of a symbol of democracy in action. Now, after much bickering and from all indications, the Negro-sponsored float WILL BE integrated, at least as far as one man is concerned.

WOODS

He is Citizens Committee Chairman Starling W. James who, in a telephone interview Monday, said, "Of course our float will be integrated. The report that it wouldn't be was incorrect."

The chairman hinted that the float would bear girls of various nationalities—Negro, Caucasian, Mexican, etc. Mr. James, who has always demonstrated his courage and intelligence in crucial matters such as civil rights and race relations, has again spoken his intention to defeat the forces of segregation in our city. Our hats are off to him and other Committee members who have joined to strengthen the Negro position here. There is so much wisdom in this stand.

SOCIETY'S Cordie King, whom the young girls point to with pride, delighted them with her revelation that "I'm going to put forth every effort to turn out very well qualified girls." She hopes to open her beauty and charm school in April. Janet Floyd, Julia Hudson and Patsy Swatts are three of those already enrolled. Betty Turner, a local favorite who's expected to wed Calvin Davis soon, has a Butler student daffy about her but she doesn't know it. Joyce Moxley tells chums Ralph Davis "and I are destined to stay single." She's had one husband. Naptown's newest and luckiest duo is Harry and Johnny (signed to a recording contract by ABC Paramount Records). The cool set flocked to hear these fellows sing and raved about their talent. Now they're looking for

Nab Bride, Groom For Drunkenness After Ceremony

DETROIT (ANP)—Odell Kyles feels that he is the unluckiest bridegroom in the city.

Kyles, 43, was married last week. After the ceremony Kyles and his wife, Lucy, 30, entertained a few friends. Kyles had a few drinks—apparently just one too many.

Kyles was enroute to a neighborhood store, when police arrested him and charged him with drunkenness.

He pleaded guilty before Recorder's Judge Elavin L. Davenport and received a suspended sentence.

"Your Honor," explained Kyles, "I just married and I didn't even get a chance to sleep with my wife on the night of our wedding." Mrs. Kyles was also arrested.

Negro Press Week In 1962

According to an announcement by officials of the National Newspaper Publishers Assn. this year Negro Press Week will be observed March, 18-24. The annual observance is associated with the founding by John B. Russwurm of "Freedom's Journal" on March 16, 1827.

Samuel E. Cornish, an effective speaker in the anti-slavery movement, was associated with Mr. Russwurm in this Negro newspaper publishing adventure. Mr. Cornish purchased a building in downtown New York at 5 Varich St. The newspaper generally accepted as the first ever published in our land by people of African ancestry or background was introduced to the nation from this place.

About the time "Freedom's Journal" suspended publication—according to the legend—Willis A. Hodges submitted an anti-slavery article to the editor of The New York Sun for publication. The editor refused to accept the article for publication, and told Mr. Hodges, "The Sun shines for all white men and not for colored men."

He further told Mr. Hodges if he desired to fight the cause of Negro people to go out and operate his own newspaper. Following this suggestion, some Negro people, over a period of 135 years have engaged in crusading for social justice for people of African blood and ancestry within the framework of our legal and spiritual heritages.

The singular effectiveness of such crusading spirit and action was strikingly attested and acclaimed by a late President who resided in the White House longer than any of his predecessors, or longer than any other President shall ever reside there—in keeping with the present framework of the U.S. Constitution.

Again we submit that almost every constructive or practical movement for the advancement of Negro people of our land, including the abolition of slavery has been championed by the Negro Press. Today approximately 200 Negro publications are carrying on in the unbiased dissemination of news for and about people of African blood and ancestry.

Among such newspapers, The Indianapolis Recorder is now in its 67th year of continuous publication, and in this manner ranks among the first five newspapers over the nation. In keeping with the spirit and vision of the founder, the late George P. Stewart, it has been actively aware of its role as a spearhead in the crusade for full social justice on the community, state and national levels.

The Recorder sometimes pursuing fitting or logical action has been unobtrusive in its role—yet it has met practically or logically every challenge to be confronted in crusading for social justice or socio-economic changes. Herein the Negro Press, in some manners has inspired the total populace toward the evolution of social justice, inasmuch changes have awaited eternally the pleasure of the majority of the people.

Concluding the struggle for social justice is an unending one, and under The Stars and Stripes the Negro Press has played a great unceasing role. Therefore it is good to have a week, to look back on 135 years of its endeavor. It is also practical at this time to look ahead logically or consistently toward purposeful goals in spirit and action befitting our times. There is no better time than Negro Press Week to contemplate vision and planning of the like.

Free Downtown Shopper Parking

Several metropolitan urban communities along the Atlantic seaboard have advanced or initiated several plans on free parking for shoppers in downtown congested shopping areas over a period of two years. This has been in keeping with certain challenges confronted in their respective economic climates in their entirities.

A program or practical plan leading to manners of solution of the problem in our city is now overdue. It is most likely that indirectly or directly more than 2,000 trades people are concerned in the parking problem confronting shoppers in the "mile square" or downtown area of our city.

Some of these trades people or merchants in very recent times have toyed with ideas of free parking for downtown shoppers. But despite the significance of the problem or challenge involved the ideas have moved at a very slow pace.

The downtown trades people have it to their credit that they are still a stalwart factor in the overall economic life of our metropolitan urban community. Yet the problems of traffic congestion and downtown parking are diverting more and more traffic, in the sense of shopping, away and to the highly intriguing suburban shopping centers.

A few weeks ago the president of the Gary Chamber of Commerce spoke of his home city becoming one of the greatest cities in the nation or the world. Over a period of more than a decade the people of greater Gary have been talking in such terms, and some adventurous planning has been initiated in keeping with such a spirit. Lately downtown trades people of Gary have initiated a downtown daily free parking plan for 12,000 shoppers.

This free parking plan appears to extend over an area a little more extensive than the "mile square" of Indianapolis. The sponsors of the Gary free parking plan, more than 200 downtown trades people, announce more "free parking" will be made available to downtown shoppers.

The Gary "Park and Shop" downtown free every day plan allows a shopper to obtain a parking ticket at any one of more than 200 stores (trading points). A stamp is placed on the face of the ticket where an individual makes one or more purchases. Parking tickets may be, and are stamped (the same ticket) at more than one point of purchases. Four stamps on a ticket entitle the holder to TWO HOURS FREE PARKING. Two stamps on a ticket entitle the holder to ONE HOUR FREE PARKING.

The plan is now in its infancy but more than one-half million free parking stamps have been given out. Further it is asserted that the plan is meeting practically certain challenges confronting the city of Gary, herein noted. Perhaps other metropolitan urban communities of Indiana would do well to study "The Gary Plan"—heretofore, here and hereafter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Peril Of Greed

REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH, Editor

LARGER LESSON: Exodus 20:17, Luke 12:13-21, Joshua 7:22, II Sam. 11, I King, 21:1-24. LESSON PRINT: Exodus 20:17, Luke 12:13-21, Luke 15:12-32. TIME: 15:00 B.C. at Mt. Sinai. PLACE: 33 A.D. at Jerusalem. MOTTO: TEXT: Luke 12:15. We come now to the last of the Ten Commandments. Let us therefore review this Tenth Commandment as follows:

I. The Essence of Covetousness, Exodus 20:17, Joshua 7:20-21; II Samuel 11; I Kings 21:1-25; II A New Testament Definition. Luke 12:13-15, Acts 5:1-11; 8:9-24; III. The Peril Of Greed, Luke 12:16-19; 15:12-32; IV. The Antidote to Greed, Luke 12:20-21, Cor. 3:21-23; 6:19-20; Ps. 24-1.

THE ESSENCE OF COVETOUSNESS. We come face to face with the most pernicious sin of the age—that of covetousness. It grows to be such from its inner nature and its motivation to the prosperity concept of both our western way of life and the communist yen for mass control of wealth.

Its deeper peril is in its insatiable and its implicit difficulty of discovery. For life has taught us that with an F.B.I. force directed by J. E. Hoover, the thief and murderer will soon be apprehended, but the apprehension of the greedy and covetous is blandly difficult of discovery.

Often thievery, adultery and murder are the outer results of much of our evils, but the root causes are never seen in our sure secretive society.

I know a man whom I counted as the most greedy citizen of our community but many counted him as one of our best citizens. His home in Sugar Hill, swanky car, trips abroad, elite associates and high place in the church made many not know him as he was.

Who could believe that in the rage of war the man after God's own heart coveted the wife of a private soldier and sacrificed his wife to get her. Uriah, a mere mournful explicable of a war the country had to win.

Who could think that Ahab would murder to grab Naboth's vineyard? Did he not offer a worthy price? Why worry about your patrimony when the government needs our land at a good price? Or why curse Achan for taking a gold brick or so and a little money or so? Was it not lost anyhow and with Israel's winning streak who will know the difference?

Finders keepers, losers weepers is an average attitude any energetic person would take. Why not? Achan's motives of "I saw, I coveted, I took" are our general American attitudes which today are driving us to a welfare state socialism and may make Khrushchev's predictions true if we are not careful.

A NEW TESTAMENT DEFINITION. As you may observe in our Old Testament exegesis that covetousness was the dare of the aggressive human soul to take possession of another's home, wife, wealth or power.

Yet in the New Testament we dare go further to solace the self in the get what you want creed of avarice. And we develop a philosophy of life around the concept and use government, family, religion, education and social prowess to make our neighbors divide the inheritance and whack up the profits with us.

Jesus here refuses to make even pray a Punch and Judy gimmick to satisfy our personal whims. So He refused to answer this prayer and pushed the asker back to consider the deeper roots of life and see his avarice and greed.

Look what He assures us here. He dares define what greed is in His catalogue of traits. It is such valuation of cars, food, clothes, homes or bank account as the ultimate goals of life. He says that covetousness is the assumption that life consists in the overflow of the things a man possesses.

THE PERIL OF GREED. Look at this parable and its warped assumptions and conclusions. Look at his selfishness. Six times he used the personal pronoun "I" and six times he used the personal pronouns "My," "What shall I do?" "I will pull down," "I will build greater," "I will say to my soul." The self made large is the center of his concept.

He had no thought for God. He was the only god his inner soul knew (Eph. 5:5, Col. 3:5). This tendency to form a philosophy of life that told the soul: "Feed yourself with this. Eat, drink and be merry" is a religion as truly as your inner dependence on Christ.

To tell the truth most of us professing Christians need to reassess our souls to determine whether or not this material is not taking over. He made no preparation for tomorrow. Soul take thy rest. Eat, drink and be merry. He thought that his life was the essence of duration. He felt that the here and now was the sum total of duration.

His philosophy of life determined his doom. I knew a Mexican in San Antonio who went to his oculist about his waning sight. He complained about his glasses. They gave him bifocals bevelled lenses, pink shade, brown shades, blue tinted.

Then his oculist told him his trouble was in the blood stream and the gradual night he was experiencing was not from the outside nor even his glasses but in the blood stream that fed the optic nerve. He had to change his diet. It was later found that he was taking a Mexican drug which gradually destroyed him from within. That was the peril of the rich young ruler. He gradually lost sight of the path of life.

THE ANTIDOTE TO GREED. Basically I think our concluding lesson for this quarter tells the story of this section of today's lesson. Read next week's lesson Scriptures and see at least which way you are going in this quarter. (Lev. 19:18, Matt. 22:35-40, 19:16-22) I have picked certain Old Scriptures which may remedy our spirit of avarice.

He needed to know that all things were his in Christ and he was Christ's and Christ was God's (I Cor. 3:3). He needed something to give his highest loyalty to. He needed to think the values of life most worthwhile were in Jesus—as this closing poem implied.

Spoken by a saintly woman Dying on an attic floor Having not one earthly comfort

I have Christ—what want I more? You may have your gold and grandeur And be counted miserably poor.

He alone has riches truly Who has Christ tho nothing more.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

To Float Or Not To Float -- That Is The Question And The Confusion

By Andrew W. Ramsey

The formation of a citizens' committee to enter a Negro float in the 1962 "500" festival has brought forth an interesting, if vitriolic, battle of words. The critics of the venture accuse the promoters of being enemies of integration, quasi-Uncle Toms and many other unsavory things.

Some of the critics are of the opinion that Negroes should not attempt to enter a float in the parade but should wait until the white business firms which enjoy Negro patronage decide to integrate their floats. Others are of the opinion that it is all right for Negro businessmen to enter a float in the parade but that such a float should be integrated as far as those riding on it are concerned.

These divergent opinions serve to put into focus the predicament of the Negro minority in these days when "integration" is a magic word and it is quite the fashion to be on an integration kick, although most of those who speak so glibly of integration have been notably absent from the fights for first class citizenship and their names have not appeared on any recent NAACP membership rolls.

The veterans who have fought in season and out even when it was not so popular to do so—for civil rights and human decency rejoice that so many seem so interested in de facto integration.

It is perhaps unfortunate that the critics are so engrossed in the forest that they fail to examine the trees and their fruits. It is apparently difficult for them to see that the businessmen who are subscribing to the float are as much interested in integration as they are themselves but they have adopted a means which is perhaps abhorrent to the critics.

The 500 Mile Race, a trade mark of our fair city, has been notable in its Negro exclusion policies in the past as well as in the future. The fact that no Negro has ever driven in the race is indicative of something that is not very friendly to the Negro and the recent struggle of Negroes for jobs at the race track is a further indication that the promoters of the May 30 spectacle have left the Negro out of their thinking.

The 500 Festival, on the other hand, is a civic movement to capitalize on the economic value of the race to the Hoosier capital. Negroes have in the previous festivals been given limited participation in this toast of the business and civic community to Indiana's stellar sporting event.

THE PROMOTERS of the idea of the float, desirous of stepping up the rate of Negro participation, have used the float as a gimmick to inform the total city that the Negroes of Indianapolis have a stake in the things which tend to better the city economically and otherwise.

Their idea is apparently that an all-Negro float will tend to emphasize that there are Negro businesses in Indianapolis and that the Negro businessmen are willing to pay their share in promoting the city's welfare.

It is natural that the act cause a certain amount of inner examination on the part of the Negro community. There is a after a very fine line separating black chauvinism and race pride.

The broader question is to what extent Negroes should abandon activities involving Negroes only in the period when they are asking to be included in the warp and woof of American life. The denial of things Negro because they are Negro makes no more sense than the acceptance of things simply because they were originated by whites.

The Negro is in the predicament of minorities which causes them to fight the handicap which has led to the stagnation of hope. Minorities in the second stage of reaction to majority suppression tend to make counter moves to disprove the majority label and to demonstrate the abilities and possibilities of the minority group.

There is no refutation of the argument that Negroes should naturally be included on floats sponsored by downtown business houses and organizations but the myopia which causes them to advertise without a thought of their Negro patronage and to pursue an employment policy which fails to utilize his highest skills and possibilities, makes the likelihood of Negroes riding such floats in the very near future remote. The promoters of the Negro float idea are convinced that their effort may have some effect on mitigating this shortsightedness.

IT IS DOUBTFUL that if the Catholic Diocese of Indianapolis were to have a float indicating the interests of Catholics in the venture, that a hue and cry would be made about it in the Catholic community, nor would it be taken as an indication that Catholics were uninterested in being included in other floats.

In our fight for first class citizenship we must be careful that we do not fight among ourselves and we should be sure to distinguish between the essential and the trivial.

To float or not to float is a pertinent question for Indianapolis Negroes but the "500" festival activity is really a question aside from the main swim event.

Letters to the Editor...

White Reader Takes Issue With Writers Position On 500 Float

To the Editor:

I have just finished reading "Out of the Woods" by Ron Woods in The Recorder, and I might add that I read it every week. I realize that you are sensitive about the color of your skin, but if you are sincere about living "with" white people, this column you wrote surely does not show it.

I should think you would be very proud to have a "cullud" float in the 500 Festival Parade. I believe you do not want to have "equal rights" you want to dominate every situation. I am white and I am from the South. I was never prejudiced until I had my friendship thrown back in my face by a few of your race (and I read your column today).

WHY DO YOU RESENT being referred to as colored? My father was half Indian. He was always proud to be referred to as that "wild Indian." You speak of improving your relations with the white man, what do you mean by improving?

May I use the Chinese for a moment? They live in their community and would not have it any other way. I say people of different races and religions will never live together harmoniously.

I would never live in a Negro community, not because I don't like them, but because I am an American and I can choose where I wish to live.

All changes take time, look at the changes that have taken place since Negroes were slaves. White people have done most of your fighting for you. In the beginning anyway. I'm not saying you are wrong to fight, I am saying you are wrong to antagonize the people who were on your side but who will not be intimidated because they do not wish to share their homes, churches, or floats with another race. Even though our schools are integrated I believe our children should be taught the difference in our races and to be proud of the accomplishments of both.

In reading your column, my understanding is that you do not want an equal float in the parade, you want to share the floats with the whites. I personally think this is a very minor thing. I cannot understand why anyone, white or colored, would fight this one way or the other.

WHY DON'T YOU take your float, make it something special, put your most beautiful girls on it and just be very proud of it. Your race and mine have one thing in common anyway, we appreciate a thing done well, and I would be willing to bet if you did make a float that was so outstanding as to be noticed by everyone, next year, I'm sure, you would not have any trouble riding the floats together, you would surely be invited to do so.

I'm sure no one is giving you anything. They just ask that you build your own and show your own. You know I wanted to be something once and I always knew if I got my foot in the door I could prove myself so I was more than willing to start at the bottom. I'm not there now and I hope to advance much more but I do not fight anyone I just show them what I can do and the rest come from them. (I cannot sign my name because of my job.)

Boxers Who Beat Local Pugs Win Gloves Titles

CHICAGO — Indianapolis' Golden Glovers turned out to look not too bad last week as two boxers who had beaten Naptown contenders went on to win Tournament of Champions national titles.

Bennie Black, a Negro fighter who had kayoed Naptown's John Adams Jr., won the heavyweight crown in the 35th annual tourney in Chicago Stadium.

Another tan fighter, Ray Jutrus of Lowell, Mass., walked off with the 112-pound flyweight title. Jutrus had decided James McNeal of Indianapolis in the quarter-finals.

Al Allen Gets Short Sanction For TV Boxing

Al Allen's Indiana Fathers and Sons Club was granted an AAU sanction last week to continue its "Future Champions" TV boxing show through April, but the picture after that is blurred.

At a tension-packed meeting at the Severin Hotel, Allen requested a sanction for an "indefinite" length of time, but instead was granted one through April 26.

A third conqueror of a Hoosier battler, Sammy Ortega of Denver, went to the finals where he lost to Edward Ellis, Toledo 135-pounder.

Ortega earlier had decided Ernest Cousins of Naptown in the second round of the tournament.

Black, a Chicagoan with "a lot on the ball," outfought huge Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids before 11,143 cheering fans to become the new heavyweight champion. In the semifinals Black had knocked out Willie McMillian of Toledo.

Black won in the fighting tradition of previous great Golden Gloves performers such as Joe Louis and Ezzard Charles, who went on to win world heavyweight championships.

Peters Rolls 729 Three-Game In Fun Bowl's Social League

By EARL BENSON

Harry Peters caught fire recently in the Social League. He bowled a blistering 729 three-game total. His series led 40-Minute Cleaners to victory over Craig Funeral Home, two games to one.

"Pete" opened with 257, came back with a blazing 279 and closed with 193 for his 729 total—which was high for the league this season.

The alleys were still giving up wood the next night, as Lovell Walker rolled a 669 in the Mixed Doubles League.

Two nights later John Cooley was king of the hill with a 1,220 six-game total. Willie "Do Funny" was runner-up with 1,203.

ON A RECENT SUNDAY the 40-Minute Cleaners defeated the Crescent Cleaners and the Fun Bowl Stars in a pair of match games.

In the first match 40-Minute downed Crescent 2,839-2,625. Lovell Walker's 586 was high for the winners. Capt. Aaron Vinnegar led the losers with 567.

Then 40-Minute went on to beat the Stars, 2,957-2,690. Years Tru-ly was high for the Cleaners with 615, while Joe King led the Stars with 585.

Humes Scored 40 Between His 3rd and 4th Personals

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

Madison's Larry Humes scored 40 points between his 3rd and 4th personal fouls.

The slender "boy of the hour in Southeast Indiana" tallied 41, of course, to set a new Indianapolis Semistate single game scoring record as he led the Cubs to a 91-81 win over Anderson. And remember, Oscar Robertson came through this Semistate three times. The previous mark of 37 was established by Laverne Altemeyer of Scottsburg in 1956.

But the fabulous thing was that Humes did all that scoring with three quick fouls riding on his back.

Monday at the IHSAA office we asked Kokomo's Joe Platt how it happened that Jim "Goose" Ligon was held to 7 points by Huntington. "He wasn't in the game," the Kat coach snarled, alluding to the whistling of 3 personals on Ligon in the contest's opening 10 minutes.

Yet the record shows that Humes was ticketed with his 3rd after just 4 minutes and 33 seconds of the first quarter, at which time he had racked up only one solitary marker.

WE DON'T KNOW about the calls on Ligon, but all three of Larry's were on the charging complex and two of them looked controversial.

At about 6:50 Anderson's Steve Clevenger went plowing into Humes (as it appeared from our seat) with all the finesse of a Mack truck plunging into a brick outhouse. Larry was called for blocking.

At 3:46 Humes was on the other end, doing the charging, and this we thought was a proper call.

At 3:27 Larry was whistled again for blocking Bill Mauck, and things looked ominous for Madison. It appeared the game might be over, to all intents and purposes, before it was well begun.

Here Cub coach "Bud" Ritter went instantly into action. He sprang to his feet and raced out on the floor in protest.

You can get a technical for that, but Ritter was merely made to sit down. In fact, he was up again half-a-minute later, debating with an official during a timeout.

Ritter also readjusted Larry's position, pulling him outside where he would be less likely to get in trouble. As it turned out, this was like throwing Bre'r Rabbit into the briar patch. Forty points' worth!

BUT THE COACH'S main move, in our view, was impressing on the whistlers that they had blown three on the star of the show.

At halftime, Wood's coach Johnny Wilson observed: "The best thing Humes could do to stay in would be to nick up his 4th personal right now. If he does that, they'll protect him the rest of the way."

Larry played the entire game and it certainly looked as if the tooters had decided to ignore him the rest of the evening—whether sinning or sinned against. He was not called for his 4th until he deliberately pushed Anderson's Ed Fuller into the stands with only 1:49 left in the game.

MEANWHILE, ALTHOUGH HITTING from all angles as well once an Indian lay on the prostrate Larry for several seconds in the middle of the floor. If they had been snakes, they could have bitten a nearby official. Yet the striped-shirt saw no evil.

It's our opinion Officials Wayne Crispin and Lawrence Gradeless had closed the book as far as Humes was concerned. They weren't going to foul him out, and to make certain, they weren't going to call anything the least bit doubtful where he was involved. And though you aren't supposed to admit it, it made some kind of sense.

LARRY HIMSELF, a relaxed, intelligent boy, said later: "I thought they charged me a few times, but there's no use worrying about the calls—you can't do anything about them."

He was more interested in looking forward to a possible clash with

Troy Donahue Stars in 'Parrish' Sunday Thru Wed. at Walker

Diane McBain, who plays one of Troy Donahue's three sweethearts in "Parrish," opening Sunday at the Walker Theater, was told by the film's director to "think hard" about young Donahue during the day and "even dream about him at night," if she could.

Delmer Daves, director of "Parrish" in Technicolor for Warner Bros., said he wanted 19-year-old Miss McBain to know Troy "like you would know a man who has changed your whole life."

Diane only knew Troy as a boy she had dated occasionally since she started acting at Warner's about a year ago. No romance, just friends.

"Then, when you look at Troy in a scene," Daves told her in explaining the result of such mental conditioning, "your face will show an understanding of him, and not reflect just your feelings discovered in the rehearsal immediately before."

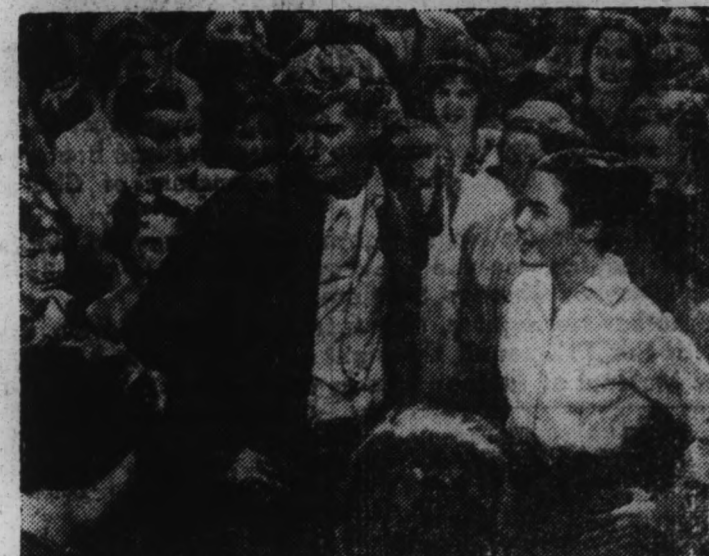

Daves is known as a developer of young talent and was the director of "A Summer Place" which made Donahue a star. Diane is a pretty blonde who played a straight romantic role in "Lee Palace." Her "Parrish" role calls for a panoply of tense emotions.

"Parrish" is a screen version of Mildred Savage's novel laid in Connecticut's Tobacco Valley. Besides Troy and Diane the cast includes Claudette Colbert, Karl Malden, Dean Jagger, and Connie Stevens, and introduces 16-year-old Sharon Hurlen.

According to a recent census, the population of Ethiopia's capital, Addis Ababa, is 449,021 persons.—(ANP)

Big Twist Contest With Cash Prize at Lloyd Price Dance Here Mar. 30

Lloyd "Lawdy Miss Clawdy" Price and his big 15-piece band, rated as one of the top attractions on the road today, will play for the Big Twist Contest and dance Friday night, March 30, at the Southside Armory, 2015 S. Penn. St. Hours are from 10 till 2 a.m. and a prize of $75.00 is offered for the best TWISTERS with Lloyd Price and Harold Logan as judges.

The sensational blues shouter and crowd pleaser will chirp a variety of songs made popular on records and juke boxes throughout the country in the Lloyd Price vocal manner. Among his favorites are "Lawdy Miss Clawdy," "Mallman Blues," "Hot Everywhere," "I Want to Marry You," "Stagger Lee," "I Wish Your Picture Was You," etc.

The big Twist contest should attract some of the city's top twist-ers inasmuch as the big prize is all in cash (all in cash to the winner) on the night of the dance and with the kind of music you'll love to twist by. The contest is open to all—youth and old with no strings barred. It will be a night to remember in old Naptown!

Rudy is Jumpin' Fri. and Sat. Nites at Popular Red Keg Tavern

Naptown entertainment lovers are packin' the Red Keg, 364 Indiana Avenue every Friday and Saturday nites to enjoy the melody tunes being dished in a swingy manner by the excitable and enjoyable Rudy—and his House Rockers, Naptown's gift to the musical world.

The boys are really living up to their name—House Rockers... and the patrons love it—if one is to judge from the fine turnout last weekend. And they are playing the songs you enjoy while sipping a refreshing drink or munching on a tasty sandwich, for which the bistro is famous. Aside from their fine mixologists and courteous waitresses.

Be sure and make a date to visit the Red Keg this Friday and Saturday and enjoy the swingy music of Rudy and his House Rockers.

which is Station WTTV's cut-off date for its winter programs.

In addition the AAU pandemics imposed a new set-up in which the matchmaking will be carried on by men who are not connected with clubs furnishing the boxers.

George DeFabis was appointed matchmaker, and Ed Denny assistant matchmaker. Gene Parker will assist Chuck Marlowe in announcing the fights, while Harry Courtney will be the ring announcer. The Recorder was informed.

THE MEETING WAS CALLED by R. A. Means, Indiana AAU registration chairman, because two former officers of the Fathers and Sons Club had resigned and it was felt a new sanction was required. Tom Strouse, the president, and Courtney, who was secretary-treasurer, both are white. After their resignations new officers were elected consisting of Allen, president; Robert Bolden, Sr., vice-president; and James C. Battle, secretary-treasurer. These men are Negroes.

At one point in the long discussion Allen observed:

fine place for nice people! LETTERS IN THE MAIL BAG: Jesselle McGee writes from Louisville that she has met several people who know or have heard about Tom from L.A., where she's making a name for herself in the entertainment world. Her mother Mary, left last week for a visit in the City of Angels.

A letter jumped in from a 15-year-old singer, who wants to make his debut here in his home town. He has won talent shows in Ohio and feels he's ready for the local public. Clubs and individuals interested in helping a young singer can contact Henry Gaines Jr. at 1150 S. Harlan. In case Mr. Gaines reads this he can rest assured that we'll be glad for him to come in any day of the week for a full session.

COMING: A pulsating and objective column by the nationally-known and crusading lawyer, Henry J. Richardson, Jr., and outstanding churchman, noted civic leader and civil rights fighter, Mr. Richardson's opinions on many national and international subjects will appear in this column soon. Keen turned to your Recorder.

NOTE: The law firm of Bolden and Mann is now located at 230 E. Ohio St.

"We'd like to have one Negro on the AAU group that is deciding these questions." "I resent that," replied Means, who was presiding.

It was reported that some observers have criticized the Channel 4 programs because "there are too many Negro fighters." Allen maintains, however, that this is only because of a shortage of white boxers here.

THE QUESTION WHETHER Allen, being a Negro, could head the sponsoring club and take part in the TV announcing is a new and "touchy" one for this community.

It has been further confused by the matchmaking and other thorny problems. There is no question that the energetic Allen has been the driving spirit who brought the program into existence.—C.S.P.

His boxing left little to be desired of an amateur, as he easily avoided Mathis' overhand attempts.

Black was trained by Johnny Coulon, former bantamweight champion. Some observers predicted he will "go places."

son stands 5-10, led the little fellows in scoring with a 25.3-point average. He was named to UPI's second team.

Runner-up with a 24.6 average, Benson was placed on the first team.

ONLY THE PREVIOUS WEEK, Benson had scored 28 points in the season's last game against Xavier to set a new Miami career total record of 590.

Until that contest, the Redskins' over-all mark had been held by Wayne Embry, who now plays center for the pro Cincinnati Royals.

LeVern hit 11-for-24 from the field and 6-for-7 free throws as he led Miami to a thrilling 65-63 upset of Xavier.

The Muskies used a 2-2 zone with a trailer on Benson, but the little Naptowner got loose for 9 points in a row at one stage of the second half.

in defeat. One of these were Gerald McClure, brother of Wilbur McClure, former Golden Gloves and Olympic middleweight champion.

Gerald, a 175-pounder, stopped Charles Dobbins of Louisville in the semifinals. But then he fell victim to Billy Joiner of Cincinnati in the finals.

An old hand in the Golden Gloves wars, Joiner won his first title in three attempts.

IN OTHER CHAMPIONSHIP bouts, James Moon (118 pounds), Cleveland, defeated Carol Yeubands of Wichita; George Foster (126), Cincinnati, defeated Steve Freeman of Fort Worth;
